

PHOTOS BY ANDREA MARIA SIMS

[ STREET SEEN ]

By A Neck

STATEMENT NECKLACES finish an outfit in an emphatic way.

They look best when they hit an inch or two above a shirt's neckline, creating a focal point that brings attention to the face. Longer necklaces cause the eye to drop, though, so don't go too far—worn with a plunging neckline, one can start to look like an anchor. But as what we've seen around town suggests, Aspenites know how to get it right. —Andrea Maria Sims